Watches worth $100 at $70; worth $30 at $20, worth $20 at $14, worth $15 at $10. B. W. Raymond's movements, gilt, $17.50; Nickel, $20. Hampden Railway movement at $18.75. Seven Jew movements, $5 to $6.25. Everything else in proportion. I have the largest stock ever brought to Stanford and have lately opened a large stock of new goods bought especially for the Holiday trade. Buy while you have a large stock to select from. Come and examine my stock and prices—but bring the money with you as the sale is POSITIVELY for CASH.

A. R. PENNY.

Seasonable Comment by our Lancaster Scribe.

There is nothing more prolific of trouble in this country than the frequency of elections. We get out of one only to leap into another, and the excitement incident to the bitter and relentless contests that ensue interferes seriously with business, engenders bad feeling and panders to a thriftless and worthless class of voters who live on excitement and the bubble that is distributed to the purchasable element of our population. The public usually takes sides in everything that comes up, from a dog fight to the election of a mayor of a city 100 miles distant, whether it is any of its business or not. If one-tenth of the interest taken in affairs of no importance could be bestowed upon those that were worthy of attention, there would be a material improvement in the ways of the world.

In the proceedings of the con. con. a few days since it was stated that the convention being "out of work" adjourned for the day. This, no doubt, suggested the frolic which resulted in the war cry "On to Richmond!" led by the gay and festive warrior, Col. Young.

We were pleased to see our esteemed friend, Dr. Dave Logan, in town Thursday. He has been confined to his bed for two weeks, and, though not very ill, his indisposition caused his friends much uneasiness. —Danville Advocate.

If the general make-up of the world was equal to Matthew David Logan, the troubles of mankind would be at an end. In all that constitutes the well-bred gentleman he stands as a conspicuous example, of which Kentucky may well be proud. Liberal and conservative in all things, with a big heart filled with sunshine and as open as the day, Uncle Dave has troops of friends, who would sympathize with him in sickness, and rejoice with him in health. It is not necessary to wait until he dies to say good things concerning him.

The best way to obtain notoriety nowadays is to either kill somebody or steal something. This insures a full and complete biographical sketch, including a picture of the subject, who at once becomes the hero of the hour and the one upon whom public attention is centered. This suggestion is not by any means intended to lure the unwary from the path of rectitude or to abandon the methods required of good and law-abiding citizens.

Dr. Mary Walker of Bloomer costume notoriety, says the government owes her a pension and that she does not intend to die until she obtains her right. By all means let the pension be granted without further delay.

The report of the committee on militia in the con. con. provides that the General Assembly "may exempt from military services persons having conscientious scruples against bearing arms, provided such persons shall pay an equivalent for such exemption." Whether this equivalent is to consist of money, tobacco, tangle-foot whisky or mules is not made clear. Neither is it apparent as to how an equivalent for services needed by the State in time of insurrection or war could be determined. Perhaps the cost of a big, double-fisted, six-foot substitute would be a just equivalent for the loss of the services of the conscientious stay-at-home.

It is said that a certain minister of the gospel in Germany is denouncing the cure for consumption discovered by Dr. Koch, upon the ground that it interferes with one of his favorite topics in frightening sinners. He takes some consolation, however, in the fact that Dr. Koch nor any other doctor can ever discover a way to keep death out of the world. The minister seems to take a sort of melancholy pleasure in contemplation of the dread monster and is no doubt ready to "shuffle off this mortal coil" at a moment's notice.

The Heine Concert on Wednesday evening was superb. The Opera House was well filled by an attentive and appreciative audience. The violin solos and duets were first-class, while the piano solos were excellent. The vocal solos were charmingly rendered. All who appreciate music of a high order ought to attend their performances.

It is not just to assume that all the appropriations made by Congress are wrong, and that the public money is wantonly wasted. True, this is often the case; but there are claims pending before that body that ought to have been paid long ago. This is especially true in regard to many cases from Kentucky, where property was taken for military purposes by the troops during the war. Claims that were meritorious have been rejected, or allowed to hang fire for years under every conceivable pretext. This is as unjust as to become positively ofensive, when the fact is considered that every nickel's worth of property taken from any citizen north of the Ohio river has been paid for by appropriations out of the public treasury. Every pig, chicken and turkey taken by Morgan's men in Indiana and Ohio has been paid for liberally and promptly by the government, while many of the claims of loyal men in Kentucky for property taken by the Union and Confederate troops, have been alike rejected. It would be in order for some of our representatives in Congress to call attention to this fact.

The con. con. has been in session 80 days at a cost of $800 per day, making the neat little sum of $68,800. It has spent a week or so in parading around over the State in quest of adventures, sight-seeing, &c., but for what good purpose no one knows. Quite a large amount of good natured fun has been poked at them, but thus far without any noticeable effect in putting a stop to their extraordinary proceedings. To indulge in criticism with the hope of effecting a change is like pouring water on the back of a duck. There are some excellent men in the convention, but they seem to be powerless to control the body, and hence are compelled to drift with the tide.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—There will be a Christmas tree at the Baptist church Christmas Eve night, so say the knowing ones.

—With new weatherboarding and a new coat of paint in addition to the low-browed, modern platform, our depot will be one of the handsomest on the K. D.

—A candy party at Mr. Will Curtis' pleasant country home Tuesday night was attended by quite a delegation of town beaux and belles. They report a "huge time."

—Miss Mollie Warren's school in the Adams' neighborhood closed Friday. Lillie Adams, Curtis Adams and Linda Anderson were among those who received rewards for scholarship, while the rest were treated to a nice spread of knick-knacks.

—Thos. T. Blanford, who learned telegraphy here under W. M. O'Bryan, and whom everybody in this burg remembers for his "wide" pants, longitude of legs and boundless good fellowship, has been transferred from Rileys to the agency at Livingston, which is considered quite a promotion. Here's looking at you, old boy.

—Bastin & Collier bought this week of W. F. Abraham, Monroe Curtis and others 160 barrels of new corn at $2.12½. They also bought of L. D. Garner 10 fat hogs, averaging 200 pounds, at 3½ cents and 10 stock hogs at 3 cents. Green Siler bought this week of various parties in this locality a car-load of fat hogs which he shipped to Jellico.

—S. Vanderpool, the hackman, whose finger was mashed several months ago between two barrels, had the wounded member amputated this week. Dr. Blair performing the operation. Mr. Vanderpool manifested almost as much "nerve" as did the Roman Consul, Sylla, when he had a wen extracted in the market place. Ignoring the use of opiates, Mr. S. coolly laid his hand on a good's box, shut his eyes and told the "sawbone" to get in his work. It's not every man who is built that way.

—John Nurdyke, better known to the world of waggery as "Good Abe," departed this State for Florida last Tuesday, taking with him the "farewell grip" of many a chum with whom he was a "hale fellow well met." John says he doesn't know how long the land of the whangadoo will contain him, but he doesn't go to seek a fortune—simply to see the country and unearth more phosphate. There were only two unique characters here, "Judge" Carson, alias "Cracked Heel" and "Good Abe," and now that the latter has forsaken his father's well, the "Judge" is monarch of the kingdom of comedy. Whom, Charles!

—Of the something over 125 pensioners in Lincoln county, 33 live in the C. O. precinct. 21 of them are survivors of the late war and 5 are widows of soldiers of that war, 5 are Mexican veterans and 2 are widows of Mexican veterans. Jesse Chastee and Joe Grant, who "fit" for the stars and stripes, draw the largest pensions of these "fatted" fighters, each receiving $24 per month. 14 out of the 21 masculine Federal pensioners can't read or write, while all of the 5 Mexican survivors possess good English educations. Judging from this there is considerable difference in the stuff of which each class is constructed to be sure.

—Mrs. Mollie Collier went to Brodhead Monday to see her aunt. Mrs. F. M. Curtis, of Maresburg, spent the week with her sister, Mrs. Agnes Heron. Mr. and Mrs. F. Arthur Zeller have returned to Noblesville, Ind. Mr. W. K. Buchanan returned to Middleboro Monday, where his wife and family will join him before the end of the year. Mr. and Mrs. Logan Thompson, of Mt. Vernon, were the guests of Mrs. Jael Cooper Friday. John Buchanan, of the Louisville Times, spent several days this week with the folks at home. Mr. Vic Owens, who has been studying telegraphy under Brer. Maret, was down to see his mother, Mrs. Agnes Heron, on Wednesday. "Vic" has a first-class head on his shapely shoulders, and by the way he is ready for an office; and if the dispatcher does him right he will be one of "the boys" soon. J. F. Holdam went to Middleboro this week to spy out a location for his store, which he will shortly remove thither.

—We ran down to that hustling little railroad town, Junction City, Saturday to see our friend, W. M. O'Bryan. Mr. O'B, during a railroad career of a dozen years, has at last, by successive steps, worked himself into one of the best paying positions on the Knoxville Branch and a position for which, by reason of his accommodating "turn," he is just the proper man. The salary of the place with the commissions attached amounts to something like $120 per month. All told there is not 6 hours' work daily; and with a nice office to do his work in and plenty of assistance to help him do it, it is indeed a "soft berth." He has a most competent force in Messrs. Turner, Landrum and Bower, the first of which is yard clerk, the second night operator and the third day operator. Mr. Bower was formerly editor of the Parkville News, a paper which he made very popular, giving it the largest circulation compared to the size of the town of any paper in the State.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

—A petition asking for a submission of the prohibition question to the people was voted down.

—By a vote of 38 to 30 the convention decided that the giver and taker of a bribe are equally guilty and both shall be excluded from the right of suffrage on conviction.

—Zach Phelps' proposition to limit divorce decrees to the single offense of adultery has been accepted by the legislative committee and will be embodied in its report.

—As amended thus far, the election bill prescribes a residence of one year in the State, 6 months in the county and 60 days in the precinct as qualifications for voters, together with an intention to make this State a place of permanent residence.

THE DOINGS.

—Alfred Lord, for 20 years a resident of Danville, is dead, aged 74.

—Old Uncle Billy McClure, the father of Judge McClure, of Rockcastle, died Sunday, aged 80-odd.

—Morrison McClelland, the veteran turfman and trainer, died at Lexington Saturday, after a career of 50 years on the turf.

—Died, on the night of Dec. 1, Mrs. Kate Sandidge, wife of Silas M. Sandidge, of consumption. She was a niece of Mr. J. M. Wray and a lovely woman in every respect. Three little children are left with the husband to mourn her loss, and may God grant them consolation in this dark hour. A week before her death Mrs. Sandidge expressed a desire to unite with the Presbyterian church and Rev. Mr. Helm was sent for, who after baptizing her, received her into the visible Church, preparatory to a happy union with the Church above.

—The cotton house of V. & E. Meyer, New Orleans, has suspended, with liabilities aggregating $2,500,000 and assets $3,000,000. This is the third largest cotton house in the country and supposed to be one of the wealthiest.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Electioneer, Stanford's famous station, is dead.

—WANTED, a second-hand feed cutter. W. B. McRoberts.

—G. A. Peyton sold to E. P. Owsley 9 hogs, 207 average, at 3½.

—FOR SALE.—A registered Jersey bull, 15 months old. J. G. Carpenter.

—B. W. Gaines bought in Garrard last week 60 nice ewes at $4.70 to $5.65.

—Will Lillard bought of Wm. Hubble 40 head of 1,300 pound cattle at 3½ cts.

—A. G. Secret, of Nicholas, lost his barn with 150,000 pounds of tobacco by fire.

—FOR SALE.—A few tons of good timothy hay in bales. W. H. Badgett, Moreland.

—A. T. Nunneley pays highest cash market price for hides and country produce.

—FOR SALE.—Five jacks, two of them 15½ hands high. George F. Anderson, Danville, Ky.

—Apply to W. M. Rae & Son for entry blanks for W. T. Woodard's sale. Entries close Jan. 1.

—G. M. & J. A. Lee, of Boyle, sold to Robt. Aul, of St. Louis, a 2-year-old Mambrino Stallion for $300.

—Amos McCampbell's racing string and stud, 35 head, sold at Louisville Saturday at an average of $820.

—E. P. Owsley has bought since last report 130 hogs at 3½. He buys none less than 225 pounds in weight.

—English capitalists, it is said, have bought a three-fourths interest in the Kimball, Tenn., Town Company for $5,000,000.

—Moreland & Lee bought of Bob McAlister 9 head of 1,400-pound cattle at 3½ cents and of John Murphy, Jr., 11 weighing 1,525 at 3½ cts.

—A. W. Montgomery traded the Hiatt farm of 31 acres to A. H. Bastin for two houses and lots near the Crab Orchard depot and $1,500.

—Jerry Briscoe sold to I. Brown 28 head of slop cattle at 2½. E. W. Lee sold to Israel Brown, of Lexington, 60 do. at 2½. —Danville Advocate.

—Hamilton & O'Bryan, who shipped 5 car loads of hogs to market, for which they paid 3½, claimed that they lost $200 by the deal. —Lebanon Enterprise.

—Shelby Tevis, of Lincoln county, sold this week to Israel Brown 92 fat cattle averaging 1,600 pounds, at 3½; 41 calves also 130 hogs at 3½ to 4½ cts. —Versailles Sun.

—C. M. Jones shipped to Cincinnati last Saturday 46 hogs, averaging 393 lbs. 35 of them were Polands and averaged 414 lbs. This beats anything we have heard of so far.

—Prof. J. T. Patterson, of Hamilton College, has sold his residence and 65 acres of land at Lexington for $29,000 to H. L. Asher. Moses E. Lard formerly owned the property.

—Bastin & Collier bought of Mrs. J. B. Owsley 24 head 300 pound hogs at 3.45. They also bought of T. M. Pennington and J. G. Livingston 200 barrels of corn in the field at $2.

—At Treacy & Wilson's sale at Lexington Friday 35 horses brought an average of $1,081. Palestine brought $13,000 and J. W. Guest gave $675 for a chestnut filly by Onondaga, dam by Springbok.

—Yesterday was too disagreeable a day for a great many people to come to town so there was a small crowd and but few stock sold. Auctioneer Dan Miller reports a lot of scrub cattle at 2 cents.

—The Harrodsburg Democrat reports sales of 20 good brood ewes at $7, corn in the field at $2.5 car-loads of 300-pound hogs at 3½, a car of 1,600-pound cattle at 4½, aged mules at $100 to $135 and 20 2 year-olds at $100.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—L. V. Collins, 6 feet 7 inches tall, and Miss Martha Farnsworth, 3 feet 1 inch, were married at Parkersburg, W. Va.

—Mr. George Faulkner, of Jellico, and Miss Callie Thompson, a pretty young lady of 21, were married Saturday at Mr. J. J. Clancy's.

—Jessie Barefield, a beautiful 17-year-old girl of Paducah, having been jilted by her lover, Henry Minor, attempted suicide by taking a dose of rough on rats. Efforts were made to save her life, but her recovery is doubtful.

—The friends of Mr. S. G. Boyle, formerly of the Danville Advocate, but now editor of the Lexington Stock Farm, will be pleased to learn that he is to become a Benedict on New Year's. The fortunate young lady is Miss Whitthorne, daughter of an ex-Senator of Tennessee.
